Dear Sir/Madam,

SALE OF UNDERGROUND DIAMOND DRILLING DIVISION

Every Day Mine Services Limited (EDMS) today announced that it had entered into an agreement to sell its underground diamond drilling (UDD) division for $1 million to Western Australian based drilling company, Swick Mining Services Limited (ASX:SWK).

EDMS has increasingly focused its drilling services activities on surface drilling with the UDD division now accounting for only approximately 5% of annual EDMS revenues.

Given the non-core focus of the UDD division, EDMS determined that the best course to take was a sale of this division. The sale comprises 7 rigs, light vehicles, a work shop and selected inventory. The UDD division has 12 staff, all of whom have been offered employment by the purchasing company.

The proceeds will be used in part to pay down debt associated with the UDD division's equipment (approximately $0.6 million), and the remainder (approximately $0.4 million) will be applied to working capital. The sale will be earnings accretive for EDMS.

EDMS Managing Director, Mr Stephen McCoy said "EDMS recently undertook a strategic review of its businesses that has led to a renewed focus on EDMS' surface fleet and other mine services. As a result, the underground diamond drilling division has been sold as it was non-core to the company's future growth. The sale of this division is an excellent outcome for the division's staff and customers."

"The sale of EDMS' underground diamond drilling division will free up resources to allow the company to pursue attractive growth opportunities."

Completion of the sale is expected to occur 30 June 2011.
